- Morning Questions Are Every Week, Monday through Friday, from 630 am-730 am CST! Please remember that our Morning Questions are held in conjunction with our class schedule. There are NO Morning Questions on the first day of each session. See our class schedule HERE. Please set your screen name as your FULL NAME. Our online instructor monitors the participants in our class and will need your name to do this effectively. Failure to do so will result in your removal from that online session!

- You are viewing the Morning Questions, which has onsite student participants. They are the ones being asked the questions and giving answers. Although the instructor will call on the online students from time to time, the purpose is to show you how to approach questions using our method. Our online instructors will be happy to answer questions pertaining to the methods, but they are not responsible for explaining the content of the questions. This is only made available to our live online students. You are free to discuss with other students as public chat is available!

- You can control your own subscription settings. Whether that is turning off "auto-renew" or suspending your access for a max of 30 days or until you are ready to finish it. How to get to subscription options: Website > Profile > Your Subscriptions > Choose Active Subscription > Subscription Options. Please keep in mind that you will ONLY be allowed to pause your subscription for 30 days, and once per billing period. You are responsible for keeping track of this and will not be reimbursed for any lost days after your subscription automatically reactivates.
